LYING PROSTRATE BETWEEN RAILS

Engine Passed Full Length of Mrs. Thompson's Body.

Coming to Visit Relatives When Locomotive Collided With Their Vehicle.

ONE VICTIM FATAALLY HURT.

Lying in the middle of a railroad track while a locomotive engine passed the entire length of her body, was the experience of Mrs. Blanche Thompson, at the crossing of Tennessee street this morning when she and her mother, Mrs. L. Thomas, were thrown from a buggy in a collision with an Illinois Central engine, about 2 o'clock. As the result they are both lying at the residence of Mr. Thompson, 2426 Broadway, seriously, and Mrs. Thompson perhaps fatally, injured.

A light engine struck a buggy in which the women were riding, and reduced it to kindling wood. Mrs. Thompson was thrown between the tracks. Her mother was knocked off the right of way and not badly injured.

Mrs. Thomas resides at Melher Graves county, and was visiting the family of Mr. R. Thompson here. Mrs. Blanche Thompson is a daughter of Mrs. Thomas and a daughter-in-law of Mr. R. Thompson. She resides at Galveston, Tex., where her husband is in business. This morning at 1:30 o'clock the latter arrived in the city to visit relatives and was met at the depot by R. Thompson and family. Mr. Thompson, wife and daughter, and two friends rode in a surrey and Mrs. Thomas in a runabout. The daughter took a seat in the runabout with her mother and the party, the surrey in advance started home.

When the first crossing at Tennessee street was reached, the surrey started across. It passed in safety, but the runabout was struck by an engine, which the occupants of the vehicle did not see. The engine, the same that pulled the first passenger train from Memphis, was No. 236, in charge of Engineer Pat Hogan and Fireman Ed Lewis. It was backing down the lead to the shops and, on account of the engineer being on the west side and the buggies on the east, he could not see. He was running slowly, he claims, and stopped the length of his engine, after the buggy was struck.

Physicians were summoned and the two injured women carried to Mr. Thompson's residence. An examination showed Mrs. Thomas to have escaped with cuts and bruises about the face, shoulders and arms. No bones were broken. She was thrown out of the way of the engine.

Mrs. Thompson, the daughter, was probably fatally injured. She claims she was thrown between the rails and that the engine passed its entire length over her. She is injured in the chest and has severe bruises and cuts on the face and the upper part of her body. No bones were broken.

The women stated that they did not see the engine and did not notice if any bell was rung or warning whistle blown. The party in the surrey saw the engine after the tracks were crossed, but not in time to give warning to the mother and daughter behind. The runabout was on the track when the danger was first realized.

Engineer Hogan is a careful engineer, one of the best on the system, and stated that he was running slowly and did not see or know that the buggies were near until he saw the surrey pass. He applied brakes and the crash followed.

Mrs. Thompson is suffering a depression of the skull, and the doctors fear internal injuries. The mother is resting well, suffering more from the shock than bodily injury.

There is no watchman stationed at Tennessee street at night.

PEORIA SCHOOL BOARD OUSTED

City Council Declares Every Seat Vacant.

Peoria, Ill., July 12.—The city council tonight declared every seat on the board of school inspectors vacant and called a special election for August 3 to elect an entire new board. The action follows on the judgment in the circuit court on the eighth hold-over members of the board and in effect declaring the method of election of the eight new members illegal.

By the consent of the people of Paducah, The Sun has the largest circulation in the city and county. The average for June was 4072 a day.

ZION CITY'S BAND FAILS; QUILTS

Unable to Succeed in Open-Air Concerts in North Shore Towns.

Chicago, July 12.—After a fruitless attempt to work up an open-air summer concert business in cities along the north shore, including Racine, Kenosha, Waukegan and Lake Forest, the Zion City band has disbanded. Its members are seeking work in factories. The band met with opposition from local bands in some of the cities and also from labor unions, who are opposed to Zionites as non-unionists.

TOTTIE

FINDS CHANCE FOR UNIQUE AD.
IN THE THAW CASE.

Counsel Receive Communications
From All Sorts and Conditions of Chorus Girls.

New York, July 12.—Possibly no case in the history of American jurisprudence has brought to the front a greater number and variety of cranks as the killing of Stanford White by Harry Thaw. Every person directly or indirectly interested has been inundated by letters from persons professing to have knowledge or advice that they are willing to sell for a consideration.

"I am putting aside material that would fill a book after this case is over," said Terrence J. McManus, one of Thaw's counsel, yesterday. "I am convinced that almost every show girl and every giddy young creature with less intangible means of support is now boasting of the attention that Mr. White paid to her in his lifetime, and every man to whom they tell their story expects to realize some cash by offering to sell it to us. The most absurd yarns are being received, and we investigate the most promising."

Three-Year-Old Child Burned.
Lexington, Ky., July 12.—George Francis Williamson, the bright 3-year-old son of John G. Williamson, was burned to death at his father's home on Park avenue Tuesday evening.

SAT ON HIVE

AND BEES LITTLE BEES TOOK TIME TO REMONSTRATE.

Cries of Child Attracted Parents But She Was Strung a Hundred or More Times.

Little Miss Katherine McKnight, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hughes McKnight, who are spending the summer with W. H. Sanders in Arcadia, played with honey-bees to her disfigurement.

Tuesday afternoon about 6 o'clock the little maid started on a walk in the large grounds about the house, when she became tired and seeing some boxes, which afterwards proved to be hives, seated herself on one of them. The bees with their usual promptness rushed out and began stinging the little girl. She screamed and her parents began to search for her, but the hives were hidden by some bushes and they searched several minutes before they found her. When found the bees were atting the little one fiercely.

She was carried to the house and a physician called who found the bees had stung her several hundred times. The fright and stings made her sick, but today she has nearly recovered.

SPARK FROM POK

Fell in Can of Powder and Two Are Dead.

Hoonerville, Ind., July 12.—Daniel and Circus Moody are dead, the result of an accident which occurred while they were sharpening picks. A spark from a pick fell in a can of powder, causing an explosion. Reed died soon after the accident yesterday. Moody died today.

CAPTAIN DREYFUS IS EXONERATED

Returns to French Army With No Stain on Name.

Motor Omnibus in London Overtakes and Kills Three Passengers to Brighton.

VICE ADMIRAL CHUKIN DIES.

Paris, July 12.—The verdict of the court-martial of Captain Alfred Dreyfus, by which he was condemned on the charge of betraying French army secrets to Germany, was annulled. He will re-enter the French army with the stain upon his honor wiped out.

Killed Under Omnibus.

London, July 12.—Six persons were killed and many injured today in an accident to a motor omnibus, while on its way to Brighton. While going down hill the omnibus overturned, burying the passengers under the wreckage.

Two more victims of the accident died this afternoon making the number of dead eight. Two others are reported dying. Sixteen are injured of the thirty-four passengers.

Never Regained Consciousness.
Sovastopol, July 12.—Vice Admiral Chukin, commander of the Black sea fleet, shot yesterday by a sailor, died this morning. He never regained consciousness.

NO EVIDENCE.

Albert Winfrey Discharged from Custody
by Court.

Albert Winfrey, the well known ball player and bartender, who was presented in the police court for the alleged theft of a watch from a companion, was dismissed, the warrant being filed away. There was no evidence against Winfrey other than that he was one of the several men in a wrestling match after which the watch was discovered to be missing.

Tom Sanders, officer for the Humane society, took up a horse and buggy last night and the owner can secure his property by calling at the Charles Clark livery stable. The horse was left standing in front of the Melher drug store for several hours last night. The animal is a bay mare.

RICH LEPER FIGHTS FOR LIFE

Mexican Millionaire on Special Train
En Route to Europe.

El Paso, Tex., July 12.—Traveling in a special train because his disease prohibits him from securing accommodations with other passengers, J. M. Bringas, a millionaire of Guaymas, Mexico, passed through El Paso today en route to Europe seeking relief from leprosy. He is not expected to live long. To prolong his life he will consult European specialists, those of his own country having failed to help him. To pass through Arizona and New Mexico he had to make special arrangements with the marine hospital service, representatives of which traveled on his train. Bringas' family is with him.

FRGES LARGER BRITISH ARMY

Lord Roberts Declares England Must Increase Her Reserves.

London, July 12.—Lord Roberts, who has been touring the country in the cause of army reform, made a speech in the house of lords today urging large increases in Great Britain's military strength. He declared that to render the country safe it was necessary to have, besides the regulars, an efficient reserve which could mobilize half a million men at once. He also said there should be an organization to turn out trained men to supply the wastage of war.

TURKISH BATHS INSANITY CURE

Philadelphia Official Thinks Method
Will Restore Lost Reason.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 12.—City Health Director Coplin today took steps toward the installation at the Philadelphia hospital of a plant for hydrotherapy treatment of insane patients. The system is patterned after the principle of the Turkish bath, and Director Coplin says the cures effected have been in hundreds of instances truly marvelous.

WRECKED STEAMER BURNS NEAR BANK

Quincy Strikes Shore on the Upper Mississippi.

Two Hundred Passengers Have Narrow Escape and But One Drowning Is Known.

ACCIDENT IN THE DARKNESS.

La Crosse, Wis., July 12.—Nearly all the 200 passengers on the steamer Quincy at 10:30 o'clock last night, narrowly escaped death when the big packet struck the bank in the dark near Trempealeau, Wis., turned half over and then caught fire.

It is believed that the majority of the passengers were saved and only one drowning is definitely known, that of an infant which was dashed from its mother's arms.

At 1:20 this morning a belated train brought 60 passengers who were on the boat to this city.

About 10:30 the steamer plying up the river struck a bank, at the time it is said the boat carried no searchlight.

One passenger says he saw a babe washed overboard from its mother's arms. The boat was sinking though not in deep water.

The steamer caught fire immediately after the collision with the bank. Amid the crashing of timbers, with the boat on its side, the lifeboats were got out and the passengers were taken off before the flames gained any considerable headway. Whether or not all the passengers were saved, it is impossible to ascertain.

Work of Rescue.

Rescue work was effectively done by the colored roustabouts of the craft. When it became apparent that the boat would have to be abandoned, the steamer was forced onto the bank by powerful engines, the prow literally creeping up the steep bank.

Tied to a tree, the burning steamer was held while the roustabouts took the people off the stern in boats.

Others jumped off into the dark, and it was not until half the people were off that the powerful searchlight was put into running order, making the scene as light as day.

Gross Negligence Is Charged.

La Crosse, Wis., July 12.—Rescued passengers from the steamer Quincy may the pilot missed the main channel. The accident occurred in a slough, passengers claim, through the gross negligence of the pilot. The boat struck the shore, knocking a hole in the hull, then backed into deep water. The shock awoke the passengers, most of whom had retired. Negro roustabouts took possession of life preservers. Passengers were landed with difficulty in small boats. Officers declared all the 250 passengers were saved.

ALL SUMMER

Garfield Must Told While Others Are On Vacation.

Washington, July 12.—Sticking unflinchingly at his post, while other officials are enjoying ocean baths and mountain breezes, Commissioner Garfield, of the bureau of corporations, department of commerce and labor, keeps pounding away at the typewriter. With a half dozen investigations into the principal industries of the United States, representing investments of billions of dollars under way, he will work through the summer. Oil, steel, tobacco, sugar, coal and lumber trusts are receiving his particular attention.

PAYS FOR FOOD SOLDIERS TOOK

Colonel Morality of the Seventh Settles for Raid on Cafe.

Springfield, Ill., July 12.—Rather than have any litigation, Colonel Daniel Morality, commander of the Seventh Regiment, now at Camp Lincoln, today reimbursed James P. Ward, restaurant keeper of Lincoln, for the food taken from the latter's place by soldiers of the regiment who made a raid on the place while en route to Camp Lincoln. It was intensely hot at Camp Lincoln today, but there were no prostrations.

Kimball in the Lead.

Frankfort, Ky., July 12.—Returns from the various conventions in the Seventh congressional district show Hon. W. P. Kimball of Lexington in the lead for the Democratic nomination as the successor of Hon. South Trimble.

Generally fair tonight and Friday slightly cooler. The highest temperature reached yesterday was 90 and the lowest reached today was 71.

PLANS STEEL RIVER STEAMERS

St. Louis Man Seeks Passenger Traffic on the Mississippi.

St. Louis, July 12.—Joseph Clark, who is the executive head of several electric railroads in Northern Missouri, is organizing a company to operate steel passenger steamers on the Mississippi river between St. Louis and New Orleans and between St. Louis and St. Paul. Mr. Clark's plan is to build nine steel hull steamboats of a new design. Each vessel will cost without equipment about $100,000.

SMILING THOMAS

IS UP AGAINST IT IN NATIONAL POLITICS.

Chairman of Democratic Committee and French Lick Magnate Must Be Retired.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 12.—There are those who, standing at a distance and looking down toward French Lick, and then glancing in the direction of New York and other seats of Democracy, say without prejudice that one Thomas Taggart, he of the everlasting smile and suave manner has lost his rabbit's foot and is "up against it" sure enough. And this is all because of the fact that in the public mind, Taggart is closely associated with a Monte Carlo—not a little Monte Carlo where no harm has been done and where fortunes have been lost but few made.

Already the state Democratic press has joined the New York World in demanding that he resign. As Taggart has held a public office of some kind or another ever since he quit splitting sandwiches at the Union Station 25 years ago, and has never resigned once, it is not likely that he will resign now. It will just be a turn down—a freeze-out. Democrats, gold and silver Democrats, will not be sorry, as the real leaders, the men who look ahead, the "track walkers," know it will be the best thing that could happen to the Democratic party.

GETTING OLD

IS BLACKBURN'S EXCUSE FOR REFUSING THE RACE.

Senator Foresees Hard Primary Contest and Harder Struggle for Election.

Washington, July 12.—Senator Blackburn's close friends here do not believe that he will be a candidate for governor this year. Their reason for holding this opinion is found in a conversation the senior senator had with one of his intimate friends just before leaving here for the summer. The senator was asked what his intention was regarding the governorship.

"I do not expect to run for governor at the primaries this year or the regular election a year hence," Mr. Blackburn replied. "I am not as young as I used to be, and I do not feel equal to making the fight. If I had any ambition to be governor I would have to start to work at once and campaign continuously for four months before the primaries. Then, if successful, the contest will be only begun. The campaign between the Democratic nominee and the Republican candidate for governor next year will be hot. This will mean another year's hard work."

NO OPPOSITION FOR BENNETT.

He Will Receive Republican Nomination for Congress in the Ninth.

Mayville, Ky., July 12.—The Ninth district congressional Republican committee met at Greenup yesterday and selected Ashland as the place and August 15 the time to hold the convention to nominate a candidate for congress. J. B. Bennett, the incumbent, will be nominated without opposition.

REPUDIATES HIS OWN CONFESSION

Curt Jett on Stand Surprises
The Prosecution.

Mose Feltner Tells How He Was Induced to Leave the Country
By Hargis.

ADMISSION HURTS DEFENSE.

Beattyville, Ky., July 12.—For the first time since the assassination of J. B. Marcum, three years ago, Curt Jett, the self-confessed murderer, took the witness-stand and told of the manner in which he killed Marcum. Jett was perfectly cool and collected as he told his remarkable story of assassination, in which he was the central figure. Jett said Marcum had prosecuted him, and was his bitter enemy, and that he killed him. He said he secured the pistol from Seiden Hargis several months before the murder, while early today he told attorneys he had been given the pistol the day before by Ed Callahan, while they were in the corridor of the court-house.

The attitude of Jett on the witness stand was such as to bear out the statement made by Attorney Young today, that Jett wanted to repudiate his confession and swear for the defense.

Much excitement prevailed after Jett left the stand, and the attorneys held a conference with the court relative to the change in Jett's testimony. Defense would not cross examine Jett.

Tom White followed Jett on the stand and asked Mr. Byrd to excuse him, as he did not want to answer any questions. He was asked if he was in Jackson the day Marcum was killed but declined to answer. White said he would not tell Mr. Byrd anything and denied that he had been advised by anyone not to talk. He said Callahan was in the jail this morning, but declined to say who he came there to see. White showed that he was very bitter toward Byrd because the latter had prosecuted him for the murder of Marcum. White even refused to answer after being told to by the court. Judge Dorsey ordered the witness to jail.

The court ruled that he would permit the evidence tending to show that witnesses were spirited out of the state, during the trial of the damage suit, and Mose Feltner was recalled to the stand.

Visited by the Hargis Men.

Feltner testified that Hargis, Callahan and French came to see him in Leslie county after the filing of the damage suit and their efforts to get him to leave the country and not testify in the case. He said they later came to him in Winchester, and did get him to go to Ohio and remain until after the trial. Attorney Jouett introduced the check for $900 which Feltner claims was given to him to defray expenses, but which he turned over to the attorneys for Mrs. Marcum without getting it cashed. This was a severe blow to the defense and was permitted to be introduced over the vigorous protests of the defense.

A statement was made by Attorney W. A. Young this morning that Curt Jett had sent for him, and stated that he would fix matters and swear that his confession was a fake if the defendants would give him $11,000. On the other hand, Jett stated to the attorneys for the commonwealth that every influence had been brought to bear, since making his confession, to retract it swear that it was secured by fraud.

Asbury Spicer Talks.

Asbury Spicer was the first witness examined by Attorney Byrd. Witness was approached by Jim Hargis and asked him to kill Marcum. Hargis wanted him to hide in an old house and shoot Marcum as he passed. Hargis told witness to get any aid necessary to assist and he would protect them. Witness refused to accept the proposition made by Hargis. Witness said Hargis asked him in June, 1902, to go with Mose Feltner and Tom White to kill Marcum. Witness refused to lay in wait in the rock quarry to kill Marcum. He went to the court-house with E. L. Noble and others at the instance of Callahan. Witness saw and talked to Jett just before Jett for Jim Hargis and Callahan, with word for him to hurry to the court-house. Witness saw Jett and White near the home of Mrs. Hurst on Sunday before the killing and Marcum was there.

Paducah	35	32	522
Calro	35	34	507
Danville	29	39	426
Mattoon	25	41	379

Yesterday's Results.
Paducah 16, Vincennes 1.
Calro 3 Danville 2 (14 innings.)
Mattoon 4, Jacksonville 2.

Today's Schedule.
Vincennes at Paducah Danville at Calro.
Mattoon at Jacksonville.

The Hoosiers fresh from Calro with three straight to their credit, and smiling the smile of confidence, pure and simple, walked onto the reservation at Wallace park yesterday to have a go with the Indians. The Indians showed their appreciation of the invasion by the hardest and most unmerciful drubbing the Hoosiers have gotten this season. Eddie Kolb was surprised, "Rube" Whitley was surprised even more than his chief and the fans in the grand-stand were the most surprised of all. They expected a battle, but the Hoosiers seemed incapable of even making it interesting for the Indians.

Such stick work had not been seen on the reservation before this season. Seventeen healthy bingles, one of them a home run and another a double, were stacked up against "Rube" Whitley, he of American league fame, and the mighty "Rube" hated it, too. He took his medicine gracefully, however, and played the game through.

Whitley was assisted in the Indians' score-making by his teammates who seemed to be all thumbs. The ball was fumbled, thrown wild, juggled and everything done with it but the proper thing. It became such a habit with the Indians to hit that the ball balked at such a thing as n ground out, and once when Pat Downing hit down the first sack line with Wilkinson standing back of the bag, the ball hit the bag and rolled into the field. Downing made the sack safe. It was counted a hit.

The poor little ball finally got so ashamed of itself that it jumped from the ground into the grand-stand netting and tried to hide itself. It was rescued and used a few innings more until the agony of one of the greatest baseball comedy of errors ever witnessed here was ended.

The Hoosiers made one earned run and five hits. Two of the hits were secured in the ninth inning after two men were out, and it was here that the tally was made. Moran hit for three sacks and scored on Barbour's single.

Mattie Mattison went wild because the Hoosiers were not subjected to the mortification of a shut-out. The Indians hit the ball all over the field ran bases like fiends, and played an all around star game. The attendance was a little better than usual and the game was interesting, because of the big score and the streak of batting fire the Indians struck.

Calro Breaks Into Game.

Calro, Ill., July 12.—Calro broke the hoodoo yesterday by taking a 14-inning game from Danville. The players fought hard and the fielding was sensational. Calro made ten hits but was unsuccessful in bunching. Seven errors to Danville assisted the local greatly in taking the game.

The score: R H E
Calro 13 10 5
Danville 2 4 7
Batteries—Wagner and Searles; Selby, Johnson and Ott.

Hostlers Take a Game.

Jacksonville, Ill., July 12.—The Hostlers yesterday defeated the locals in a closely played game. Both pitchers did good work, but McCarthy proved too much for the Belites.

The score: R H E
Jacksonville 3 8 4
Mattoon 4 4 3
Batteries—Fox and Belt; McCarthy and Johnson.

A Few Reminders.

"Red" Perry is playing a star game now and his base running especially has been good. Perry yesterday had two stolen bases and the day before he twice stole clear around the diamond. Yesterday he was up six times, got five hits, one put out, and one assist without an error.

Henry Wetzel is hitting and fielding like a fiend. Cooper has his eye on the ball again and is knocking them all over the field.

Moran seems to be infallible hitter. Miller could not fool him once yesterday.

The Hoosiers found Miller the hardest proposition in the league. The big boy had them all going yesterday, except Moran, who just would have that score.

Moran is a native of Vincennes. He is leading the league in hitting and is one of the surest fielders in the league.

Eddie Kolb is not wearing the "smile that won't come off" today.

The fans are now attending the park better. The warning the management gave local baseball enthusiasts seemed to have done some good. It is either to patronize the game or suffer baseball to die here.

Groh intended getting into the game again today but yesterday afternoon while under the hot shower, bath in the club room, burst a blood vessel in his left arm and will not be able to go in before Saturday.

Vincennes was after Quigley who is now playing second sack for the Indians.

Lee Lemon, formerly catcher for the Hoosiers, has been released by the Decatur, Three I league, team.

Quieser, catcher for Danville, has been released. He is a better man than Shaw, Paducah fans think.

Brable and Tadlock will pitch today's double header for the Indians, and Perdue will go in the first game against Brahic.

Tomorrow is Ladies' Day.

The Indians' Averages.

The averages of Kitty league players up until July 1 have been compiled and mailed over the circuit. "Deetle" Moran, of Vincennes, still leads the league in batting, his average being .322.

The following are the averages of Paducah players:

	Bat.	Field.
Haas	.300	979
Wright	.300	929
McClellan	.245	922
Wetzel	.245	919

"The dark clouds of uncertainty that have been hanging over the Calro baseball team are rolling away and the future of the local club is hourly growing brighter. The baseball enthusiasts are beginning to show that they have no quitters blood in them and that instead warm, red sporting blood flows in their veins. The sale of tickets is growing more hopeful each day and the directors of the association will it is understood, soon begin to solicit subscriptions for funds with which it will be necessary to keep the club in existence. Manager Elchenberger last night said: "Calro is going to stick for the big show and a lot of towns that have been giving Calro the laugh because of its threatened financial failure will be greatly surprised when we enter off with the pennant at the end of the season." Calro Bulletin.

Calro's Own baseball team passed through Paducah this morning en route to Princeton to play the Princeton Grays.

The gauge at the foot of Broadway registered a stage of 6.3 this morning, a fall of 0.4 in the last 21 hours. Weather clear. Business already has been perceptibly weakened at the wharf by the low water. The withdrawing from the trade of the large Lee boats is the largest factor, and next week will see more of the regular packets replaced by smaller boats, which means smaller business. There has been no rainfall here this month.

The Lizzie B. Archibold passed with a tow of empties this morning.

The John Hopkins was the regular Evansville packet this morning. The Dick Fowler left on time this morning for Calro and way points returning tonight about 8 o'clock.

The Kentucky will be due out of the Tennessee river tonight.

The Saltillo left St. Louis last night and will arrive here Friday morning on the way to the Tennessee river. The St. Louis-Tennessee river packets probably will have a good stage of water until September 1.

The Savannah will be due out of the Tennessee river this afternoon on the return trip to St. Louis.

The Peters Lee arrived at 7 o'clock this morning from Cincinnati on the rush to Memphis ahead of the coming of low water. As it was the Peters Lee barely did get through, finding the water especially shallow just below Golconda. The freight and passenger business was necessarily small. The Lee boats have been withdrawn from the Ohio river trade until fall and probably will go on docks or ways for repairs.

The Georgia Lee may take the place of the Sun in the Mississippi river trade. At the present rate of falling, the Joe Fowler and the John Hopkins in the Evansville-Paducah trade, will have to quit next week. In that event the Henry Harley and the Dunbar will assume their runs. The Henry Harley is now in the upper Cumberland and will arrive here this week. The Dunbar is now in the Cumberland river trade but will probably be succeeded by the Dudley, which is here on the docks for repairs.

Navigation in the Cumberland will not be kept up much longer. At present the Dunbar can get only to Clarksville, and probably not that far next week. The Butterff, whose place the Dunbar is filling, unless chartered out will lie up until a rise.

The Fannie Wallace was let off the dry docks yesterday and the Harry H. from Vicksburg was raised out. The United States boat, Lookout, is expected to be finished today and will leave immediately for the government work in the Tennessee river. The Dudley is ready to be raised out when the Lookout gets away.

The towboat Lyda arrived yesterday from the Ohio river with the hollers and furnaces of the Guiding Star, which sank near Golconda in the ice last winter. After being repaired they will be put in the Gate City.

At the first it was apparent that the present wharfboat which allows wagons to come aboard to unload, would be a vast economy over the old system of unloading on the wharf but now boat men estimate that ten men can do the work of thirty men where it was necessary to carry the freight from and in the boats over the wharfboat. It means a saving of from $25 to $50 in boats of the Kentucky type, each trip.

The Wash Houslipe came down from Rosecine last night from the sunken barge of cotton ties and left this morning for the same point. Practically all the ties have been recovered. The sinking of that barge was one of the most peculiar accidents in river history. The bottom fell out, though it would be supposed that the pressure of the water would have been sufficient to hold it up even if it had not been nailed.

Government dredge-boats are preparing to again cut out the channels between Paducah and Louisville. This will help, but it is likely that nothing but a good rise in the river will enable boats to resume in the upper Ohio. The "June rise" is still "due."

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville and Mt. Vernon, no decided change during the next 36 hours. At Paducah and Calro will continue falling during the next several days.

The Tennessee from Florence to below Johnsonville, no material change during the next 24 to 36 hours, with generally a rising tendency.

The Mississippi from Chester to Calro, will continue falling for an indefinite period.

LEG AMPUTATED.

Attorney L. K. Taylor Undergoes Operation at Louisville.

Attorney L. K. Taylor, of Paducah, is in St. Joseph's infirmary, Louisville, recovering from an operation on his leg. His leg was removed last Friday, the operation being necessitated by a series of swellings. Attorney Taylor has been crippled since childhood. A swelling drew one leg up, making it shorter by a foot than the mate. The operation was a success and the attorney will be out in a few weeks, it is thought.

HORRIBLE CRIME; MOTIVE ROBBERY

Woman Beaten to Death and Body Set on Fire.

Suspect Under Arrest Supposed to Be Man With Her When She Cashed Draft.

KILLS HIMSELF IN JAIL.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 12.—Hob-bery is believed to have been the motive of the brutal murder of Miss Millie Ellison, of Elsworth Wis., who was attacked while in her room in a hotel here.

The woman is known to have had $2,000 on her person, having cashed a draft for that amount at one of the banks during the day. When she appeared at the bank to cash the order which was drawn on an institution in her home town, she was accompanied by a man who closely answers the description of the suspect now under arrest at Elroy, Wis.

His name is N. M. Riggs, a resident of Minneapolis and an engineer on the Northwestern. He met Miss Ellison some ten years ago when she was employed in a hotel at the end of his run.

A brother of the dead woman, now here, tells the following story regarding the man under arrest at Elroy:

"My sister sold out her millinery business in Elsworth. It was the understanding of the family that she was on her wedding trip.

"She took all her money and negotiable papers, with her at the time she left home. The amount is at least $3,000 and it may have been as much as $6,000."

The woman when found had two gaping wounds in her head and practically every inch of skin on her body was burned off.

From the appearance of the woman and the room in which she was found, it is plain that she was beaten into insensibility with a hammer and left for dead. Her assailant then laid her body on a couch and spreading a quantity of wood alcohol over her and the couch set fire to it with evident intention of setting fire to the entire hotel in order to cover up his crime.

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

Distressing Tragedy.

Richmond, Ky., July 12.—Tom Hoggie, a prominent farmer living just over the Estill county line from College Hill, has for some time been suffering from his residence and determined to catch the guilty parties.
He placed a gun just in front of the door and tied a string at one end to the trigger of the gun and the other to the door knob so that when the door opened the gun would be discharged.
Mr. Hoggie, who had been away from home, returned in the morning to find John Woods, aged twenty-three, the son of William Woods, a prominent citizen of Estill county, lying dead in front of his door with his head nearly blown off.

Pure Water for Hickman.

Hickman, Ky., July 12.—Water from the new artesian well has been pumped into the water mains. The water is now fine and clear, very different from the muddy water of the Mississippi, heretofore used. The electric light and waterworks will be run in connection with the new Con-and Leo company, and will all be under one management.

Louisville After State Fair.

Louisville, July 12.—Acting Mayor Tyler this afternoon called a meeting of the general council for 8 o'clock tonight for the purpose of considering a recommendation of the joint finance committee to appropriate the sum of $50,000 for the purpose of securing the permanent state fair for Louisville.

Loses Her Voice.

Owensboro, Ky., July 12.—As the result of a dose of carbolic acid, which she took a few days ago with suicidal intent, Miss Grace Eller, a handsome girl of Evansville, Ind., may never be able to speak above a whisper, the acid having paralyzed her vocal organs.

M. L. Harris Nominated.

Hodgenville, Ky., July 12.—M. L.
Hearvin, of Ohio county, was nominated for congress by the Republican convention of the Fourth district, which has a Democratic majority of 3,500.

Convention Called for August 15.

Greensburg, Ky., July 12.—The Ninth district Republican convention for nominating a candidate for congress has been called for August 15, at Ashland.

PLANS FOR BRIDGE AT FOURTH STREET

A Thirty-Six Foot Structure
Over Island Creek.

Board of Public Works and Committee of General Council Agree to Push Work.

RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED.

A 34-foot bridge with a 26-foot driveway in the center and a 5-foot pedestrian passage way on each side, will be built over Island creek to replace the old bridge on Fourth street.
The decision was reached at a meeting of the board of public works and the joint public improvement committee yesterday afternoon, and City Engineer L. A. Washington was instructed to proceed at once with the plans. All haste possible to use will be exercised in arranging the preliminaries.

All market benches were reported to the board of public works re-engaged except two, and President Hinkley was instructed to confer with Market Master Frank Smedley relative to renting them.

The matter of defective surface water drainage at Twenty-third and Jefferson streets was deferred, pending a decision of the collector relative to fixing the responsibility for sewers, whether on the property owner or city.

A small platform was ordered torn from the Friedman & Keller store on Jefferson and Second streets. It was built to facilitate loading of wagons, but is an obstruction of the pavement.

The board met Tuesday, July 17, at the date for testing street flushing machines. There are two St. Louis flums with flushers here.
The street department was ordered to sprinkle the street on Broadway from Fountain avenue to Twenty-fifth street to lay the dust during the progress of the funeral procession from the Ed P. Noble residence to the cemetery.

Cut off water boxes are reported too high in some places on the pavements.
They were ordered cut down. People stuck their toes and fall because of these projections above the pavement, and this action is taken to prevent damage suits.

The street department was ordered to remove debris from Jefferson street where pavements are to be built.

The street inspector was ordered to seal a flue cap at the sewerage pump house.

The contract made with Thomas Bridges Sons & company for constructing a culvert on Caldwell avenue near the depot, was ratified. Work will begin at once.

The board ordered a communication filed with the legislative boards arguing the condemnation of property owned by W. F. Bradshaw, Sr., and George Bernhard for pavements on West Broadway from the hospital on Fountain avenue. Other residents have dedicated property.

Resolutions of Respect.

Resolutions of respect to the late Ed P. Noble, formerly president of the board of public works, were drafted.
They read as follows:

"Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to terminate the life and career of our late co-worker and friend, Edmund P.
Noble, whose death occurred in this city July 10, 1906; therefore be it

"Resolved: By the board of public works of Paducah that in the death of Mr. Noble the city has lost an honored and valuable citizen; one whose labors as a member and the presiding officer of this board, emphasized his worth to our beautiful and progressive city, in which he always manifested such a delight and pride; that by his kind, considerate and impartial course, he enjoyed the full confidence and esteem of his official associates, who, in common with the entire community, deplore his death. And though his active connection with this board had been severed some weeks ago by his resignation, yet we felt that he was still a member for he always displayed a keen interest in public affairs even up to the time he was taken ill. Be it further

"Resolved: That while many public officials of the land have been, and are, criticised, this board can and does say that his official life, like his private life, was above reproach and free from all criticism. In all of his acts he was governed by a strict fidelity to his duty as an official, and without exception enjoyed the utmost confidence and esteem of all with whom he came in contact;
making a faithful, honest and conscientious officer. As a member of the board he exercised a wise and progressive spirit, and was largely instrumental in laying a broad foundation to meet the growth of the city in the years to come. By his death the city also loses one whose aim in life was to do good for his

RAILROAD NOTES

Shops in Good Condition.

A party of higher Illinois Central officials are in Paducah today making a general inspection. They are Joseph Baker and J. G. Neuffer, assistants to William Renshaw, general superintendent of machinery; H. A. Shums, traveling car inspector, and W. O.
Mody, mechanical engineer. They arrived this morning from Evansville and will go south this afternoon on the Fulton accommodation train, taking the last train at Fulton. They made a tour of local terminals and the shops and found everything in the best possible condition.

Two excursions over the I. C.
which will pass through Paducah were bulletined for this month this morning. The first will start at Cal-to and run through to Louisville on the 29th, returning on the 31st. The second will start at Wickliffe, Ky., and go through to Evansville. It will run on July 15. Both trains will be met here by Joe Mosley, the colored excursion agent for the road, and be in his charge. The patronage will be principally colored people. White coaches will be added when needed.
No rates are quoted.

PACKER ANGRY AT ROOSEVELT

Nelson Morris Says Present Aggra-tion is Ruining Industry.

Denver, July 12.—Nelson Morris, of Chicago, showed intense bitterness toward President Roosevelt today in an interview he gave out here.
He forecasts a disaster for the industry and insists that the whole crusade against the packers is senseless and founded on false reports.
"Our trade is vanishing, and it will be taken by Buenos Ayres and other South American states," he said.
"South America will supply the canned meat that we have been supplying to foreign nations. The west is being injured and will be one of the principal sufferers. The time is at hand when the west again will have to raise cattle for their hides."

"Who is responsible for this state of affairs? Did the stockyards novel have much to do with it?" Mr.
Morris was asked.

"The hook—nothing," exclaimed the packer. "There is only one man who roids the hook."

"Do you mean President Roosevelt?"

"Well, you know," returned Mr.
Morris, "that book didn't have anything to do with it."

Want Thorough Inspection.

At the meeting of the Butchers' association last night the question of impartial inspection of meat was discussed. The butchers on market believe that all meat sold, no where or by whom, in the city, should be inspected both before and after slaughtering.

Daily Thought.

"Skill is a handle without which no tool is serviceable."

Only this week is left in which to qualify for one of the prizes offered by the Paducah Evening Sun for the prettiest yards in the different wards and the prettiest yard in Paducah. Beginning next Monday Mayor Volser Dr. D. G. Murrell, president of the board of park commissioners, and Dr. J. Q. A. Taylor of the board of public works, will make an inspection over all the residence streets in the city and decide which yards are entitled to the prizes. Much interest has been taken in the contest, a surprising response, considering this is the first year the scheme was ever tried in Paducah, and it reflects the refinement of the citizens in general. The Sun has in this contest but one object, to stimulate a sense of civic pride in our people, and to bring about the day of the "city beautiful." In many cities civic improvement associations have met with great success and there is hope that before another year rolls around Paducah will have such an organization, including in its membership a majority of the householders.

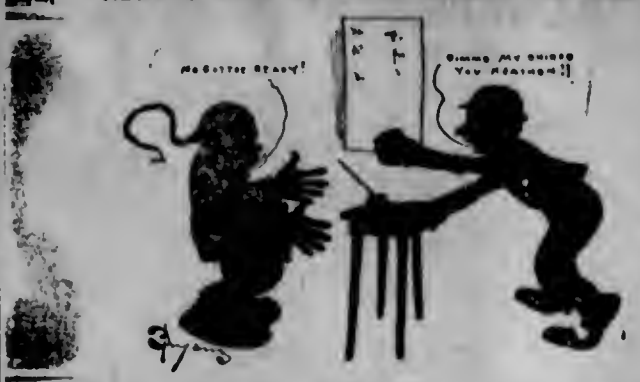

In speaking of the wave of ethical reform that has swept over the country, Mr. Bryan fails to realize that it had its inception in the precept and example of President Roosevelt, whose whole career and administration have stood out for clean living and the "square deal." Mr. Bryan's ideas are correct, he is the philosopher, Mr. Roosevelt is the practical man of affairs, living and executing those ideas. Mr. Bryan's speech dwells in the realm of figurative language, he knows no other. While he is talking President Roosevelt is doing.

Lexington papers are accusing the Louisville Commercial club of mendacity in connection with the struggle between the two cities for the permanent state fair. They assert that the Commercial club representatives a year ago visited Lexington and declared the blue grass capital an ideal location for the institution. Perhaps so but since the Commercial club is a Louisville organization, its reputation will not be tarnished nor its usefulness impaired, if it succeeds in landing the state fair.

If London Punch contained a humorous article about the Longworths, it amply demonstrates the growth of American influence in England, and the subjects of the witless should feel distinguished by having induced that dignified, rather sombre, publication to perpetrate its first joke.

works will be put on the water wagon.

The action of the Courier-Journal in copying the confession of Curt Jett was more appropriate than the management realized at the time, since, according to Jett's latest utterance on the witness stand, the confession can be classed as fiction.

There was no watchman at the Tennessee street crossing of the Illinois Central railroad when the collision between a vehicle and engine occurred before daylight this morning. The engineer and the driver claim they could not see each other.

What has become of the band of thieves, who precipitated a run on the local pistol market? Is it possible they retired to live in opulence, forgetful of their public duty to "keep it up" until more policemen were appointed?

Speaking in figures, Mr. Bryan declared that although President Roosevelt "caught him in swimming" and stole some of his clothes, he did not get all of them. No, Mr. Bryan still has a monopoly on free silver.

Press agents for musical comedy stars should get busy preparing advance matter for the coming season, concerning their principals' friend ship with Stanford White.

Paducah fans favor a ratio of sixteen to one, but like everybody else fear the standard is a shifting one.

The harvest time is ripe for Paducah's crop of vacant lot weeds and street corner loafers.

Why don't the advocates of phonetic spelling, spell it fonetik?

TAFT AND BRYAN

The Louisville Post says: The time for nominating presidential candidates is still two years away but it is undeniable that at the present time two names are uppermost in men's minds, William J. Bryan, the probable nominee of the Democratic party, and William H. Taft as the probable nominee of the Republican party.

Judge Taft is our neighbor. He lives in Cincinnati. Perhaps the closest of all his personal friends is one of the most distinguished citizens of Louisville, who but recently retired from the federal bench, which he has ornamented for nineteen years. For a number of years Judge Taft was United States Judge of the circuit court, which took in Kentucky. He knows the members of the bar of this state. He has accurate information as to our internal politics. He has a personal interest in the state and the people of Kentucky.

Mr. Bryan also is well known to Kentucky, and he knows Kentucky well. Mr. Bryan has been here on at least a dozen speaking tours. He knows all our congressmen by name and is probably well informed as to all our leading men. Moreover, he has responded to the call for help from Kentucky Democrats when they did not deserve assistance.

When Mr. Bryan came to Kentucky he came in obedience to the call of his party, when as an independent man he must have revolted at the course his party was following. Last fall in a state election the Republicans called on Judge Taft to come to Ohio and help them elect a machine-made ticket. At that time the people of Cincinnati and the people of Louisville were both trying to throw off the yoke of a corrupt political machine. In Cincinnati the machine was republican, and the sole argument for its ticket was that it was republican. In Louisville the machine was Democratic, and the arguments were the same with the party reversed.

Judge Taft came to Ohio the foremost Republican in the country. Doubtless he did not ask to make that speech, but when invited he did not shrink from the issue. He said that he had been invited to come to Ohio as a Republican and to speak as a Republican. As a Republican and an honest man he would do his duty. He hereupon called upon all Republicans to vote against the corrupt Republican ticket in the city of Cincinnati. This speech turned the scale. The corrupt Republican ticket was defeated in Cincinnati and that city now has a reform city administration.

What might not Mr. Bryan have done in Kentucky had he taken a like course? Suppose Mr. Bryan had urged the Democrats in the Kentucky legislature not to steal an office, no matter how great the temptation, suppose he had made a plea for party honesty as well as personal honesty, he would have written for the Democracy of the state the brightest chapter in its history.

What Osteopathy Is.

The question is often asked "What is Osteopathy?" for some people have a very vague idea of this new science that is doing so much to aid mankind. Osteopathy, when well digested, is nothing but good sense and reason.

It is a method for treating disease by manipulation, to restore the normal condition of the nerve control and the blood supply to every organ of the body by removing the physical obstructions, or by stimulating, or checking, functional activity, as the conditions may require.

A diseased body is caused by some interference to a working part of the organism, and a correction of it brings restored health. Therefore, osteopathy finds the disturbance and, righting it, effects its cure.

The methods used are scientific manipulation, and no medicines, and they are very successful.

Some of the diseases in which osteopathic treatment has been the most effective are headaches of all kinds, nervous disorders, malaria and bilious, indigestion in its many forms, kidney troubles, neuralgia and rheumatism. It treats successfully, however, nearly all diseases. If you are ailing, no matter what your particular trouble may be, I should like to have you call and let me tell you why Osteopathy will cure in your special case. I do not claim that Osteopathy is a cure-all, but am frank and will tell you what it will do in any individual case, at the same time referring you to people who know, who will gladly tell you what the treatment has done for them.

of Louisville were both trying to throw off the yoke of a corrupt political machine. In Cincinnati the machine was republican, and the sole argument for its ticket was that it was republican. In Louisville the machine was Democratic, and the arguments were the same with the party reversed.

Judge Taft came to Ohio the foremost Republican in the country. Doubtless he did not ask to make that speech, but when invited he did not shrink from the issue. He said that he had been invited to come to Ohio as a Republican and to speak as a Republican. As a Republican and an honest man he would do his duty. He hereupon called upon all Republicans to vote against the corrupt Republican ticket in the city of Cincinnati. This speech turned the scale. The corrupt Republican ticket was defeated in Cincinnati and that city now has a reform city administration.

What might not Mr. Bryan have done in Kentucky had he taken a like course? Suppose Mr. Bryan had urged the Democrats in the Kentucky legislature not to steal an office, no matter how great the temptation, suppose he had made a plea for party honesty as well as personal honesty, he would have written for the Democracy of the state the brightest chapter in its history.

What Osteopathy Is.

The question is often asked "What is Osteopathy?" for some people have a very vague idea of this new science that is doing so much to aid mankind.

Osteopathy, when well digested, is nothing but good sense and reason.

It is a method for treating disease by manipulation, to restore the normal condition of the nerve control and the blood supply to every organ of the body by removing the physical obstructions, or by stimulating, or checking, functional activity, as the conditions may require.

A diseased body is caused by some interference to a working part of the organism, and a correction of it brings restored health. Therefore, osteopathy finds the disturbance and, righting it, effects its cure.

The methods used are scientific manipulation, and no medicines, and they are very successful.

Some of the diseases in which osteopathic treatment has been the most effective are headaches of all kinds, nervous disorders, malaria and bilious, indigestion in its many forms, kidney troubles, neuralgia and rheumatism. It treats successfully, however, nearly all diseases. If you are ailing, no matter what your particular trouble may be, I should like to have you call and let me tell you why Osteopathy will cure in your special case. I do not claim that Osteopathy is a cure-all, but am frank and will tell you what it will do in any individual case, at the same time referring you to people who know, who will gladly tell you what the treatment has done for them.

"CARRIE" ARRESTED

Charged With Publishing Improper Articles in Her "Hatchet."

Dallas, Tex., July 12.—Mrs. Carrie Nation was arrested at Cleburne this afternoon by deputy United States marshal on a warrant charging her with having misused the mails. She was brought to Dallas and after a hearing before the United States commissioner was released on $2,500 bonds. The trial is set for July 31. The warrant comes from Guthrie, Okla., and specifies that she deposited in the postoffice a publication of her own, "The Hatchet," containing an improper article headed "A Private Talk to Boys."

MUNICIPAL ABATOIR IS PLAN

Philadelphia Authorities Also Order Street Market Rebuilt.

Philadelphia, July 12.—As a result of the crusade for pure meat, orders have been issued by the city board of health for the complete rebuilding of a large but ramshackle street market on Second street, on the ground that it is unclean. Tens of thousands of bad meats also were seized today by health inspectors at the plant of a freezing company. To protect the public better Health Director Abbott has begun a movement for the refection of a municipal abattoir, where all licensed butchers may to their slaughtering.

SPIKE A SWITCH AND CAUSE WRECK

Dastardly Deed Prompted by Hatred of Railroad

Angry Mob With Bloodhounds on the Trail of Men Responsible for Three Deaths.

INCENDIARIES BURN UP TOWNS.

Petersburg, Ind., July 12.—A wreck of the Southern railway freight train eight miles from here this morning resulted in the loss of three lives and thousands of dollars worth of property. An engine ran into a spiked switch and toppled over. The entire train left the track, demolishing many cars and wrecking the engine. The engineer and fireman were badly scalded and died in a few minutes. Fireman Capehart had his leg cut off and died an hour later. Two other members of the crew are probably fatally injured. Investigation showed the other end of the switch also spiked, so as to get either the east or west bound train. Bloodhounds and an angry mob are on the trail of the miscreants. Ill feeling against the railroad company is supposed to have been the motive.

Incendiaries Burn Town.
Booneville, Ind., July 12.—Booneville, having a population of a thousand, almost was totally destroyed by fire this morning. Twenty-five buildings were destroyed, causing an estimated loss of $200,000. It is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

TRAFFIC MANAGER.

New Office Created by Cumberland Telephone Company.

On account of the increased business in the Western Kentucky district of the Cumberland Telephone company, the office of "traffic manager" was created and Humer Barnett was given the position. Mr. Barnett is a diligent and capable man and has been in the employ of the company for several years. He has been given office space in the local exchange and has entered upon his new duties. The Cumberland company continues to increase its facilities and Monday will have connections with Lovelaceville.

Resolutions.

At a meeting of the Manufacturers and Merchants of Paducah for the purpose of taking action upon the death of Mr. Ed. P. Noble, the following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, in the death of Mr. Ed. P. Noble, the Manufacturers and Merchants, as well as the citizens of Paducah in general, have sustained an irreparable loss, and

"Whereas, Mr. Noble during his life as a merchant, as a citizen and as a public officer, rendered such excellent services to the community, and

"Whereas, his high conception of private citizenship, his exalted idea of public service, was an example worthy of the emulation of all good citizens; therefore be it

"Resolved, that we deplore the loss to the community of this worthy citizen and he it further resolved that we extend to his family our heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement and cherish the hope that the sympathetic feeling we all have toward the deceased will tend to be a soothing balm for their wounded hearts; and he it further

"Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be published in all of the daily papers and another copy handed to the family of our deceased friend.

New Hair

Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the hair grow because it is a hair-food. Feed the hair-bulbs, and the hair grows. That's nature's way, and that is all there is to it. Strong and healthy hair stays in, keeps soft and smooth, and grows thick and heavy. Then add nature with Ayer's Hair Vigor. A little of it often does great things. There's genuine comfort in a handsome head of hair. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

$2,000,000 SWINDLE IS CHARGED
London Officials Investigate Affairs of Late Charles Cheston.
London, July 12.—Official and other inquiries are being made regarding the affairs of Charles Cheston, a solicitor who died in May last after having lost, it is alleged, between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 of his client's money. The main losses affect five or six persons, including Lord Amberst, of Hackney. It was at first thought he was practically ruined, but he is not the hardest hit. The heaviest loser is said to be a woman, name unknown, who is out $500,000.

It is alleged that Cheston's defalcations extended over several years and were largely the outcome of speculation in the stock exchange.

NINE FOOT STAGE SOURCE TO MOUTH

Meaning of Full Plans of Rivers and Harbors Committee.

Big Chicago Ship Canal Project Will Have to Await Disposition of Prior Claims.

FEDERAL PAUPER STATISTICS.

Washington, July 12.—The prospect of the ultimate consummation of the nine-foot project for the Ohio river was never brighter than it is at this time. The long-continued agitation in favor of a channel that depth from Pittsburg to Cairo has made an impression upon the house committee on rivers and harbors which gives promise of early and satisfactory results.

The committee did a great deal of preliminary work during the last session, and will be able to draft a new bill in time for introduction before the holiday recess. Several tentative conclusions have already been reached by the committee, and one of them concerns the improvement of the Ohio river.

Congress has already authorized the construction of locks and dams which, when completed will provide a nine-foot depth for a distance of thirty miles below Pittsburg, and the committee has resolved that hereafter, whenever provision is made for the extension of this lock and dam system, it will be with a view of carrying the nine-foot channel further down the stream.

In other words, the committee seems to have made up its mind that the government is now already committed to the nine-foot project, and will waste no more money in building works which will provide only for a six-foot channel.

Quarantine for Fruit Vessels. Washington, July 12.—Secretary Shaw has amended the quarantine regulations so as to allow fruit vessels from ports where yellow fever is known to exist to enter the ports of the United States without detention. Vessels are allowed the alternative of remaining out of the United States ports until five days from the time of leaving the infected port have elapsed or of making a change of crew.

Snag for Chicago Ship Canal. Washington, D. C. July 12.—Chicago's efforts to get the drainage canal made a ship canal, connecting the great lakes and the Mississippi river, will meet great opposition next winter from Chairman Burton, of the rivers and harbors committee of the house. As committee now stands no appropriation for that purpose will have a place in next winter's bill. Improvements that have long been hanging fire must be cleaned up before it can be seriously considered.

Pauper Statistics. Washington, July 12.—According to a report issued by the census bureau today, there were in the United States in 1904, 163,176 persons in almshouses, and of these 111,817 were males. Although the number of almshouse paupers is increasing, the increase has not kept pace with the growth of population, and consequently the ratio of almshouse paupers to population is decreasing. In 1880 it was 132 per 100,000 of population; it decreased to 117 in 1890, and to 101 in 1903. Of the paupers, 18 per cent, had been laborers and servants, 19 per cent, engaged in manufacturing and mechanical industries, and 21 per cent, occupied with agriculture, transportation and other outdoor pursuits. More than three-fourths of the female paupers had been servants.

GENERAL FIGHT; ONE CASUALTY

O'Bryan's Addition Furnishes a Sensation.

One Man Badly Beaten Up, and Pistol Shots Echo Through Streets at Night.

WIND UP IN THE POLICE COURT.

A free-for-all fight, in which three men and two women participated, broke the stillness of night in O'Bryan's west end addition just east of the Illinois Central union station this morning about 3 o'clock. A pistol, knife and fists were the weapons, and the fight was fast and furious while it lasted. One man, Sherman Mills, was badly used, but no one seriously injured. The principals were Fannie Wilson, a well known character, Thelma Chesterfield, equally notorious, Jesse Ullman, another man, and Sherman Mills, the latter a bartender, who has often been mixed up in affairs in which the Wilson woman centered.

Last night the two women who reside in the O'Bryan addition went to Wallace park and met Ullman and friend. It is said. When they returned home the men are alleged to have accompanied them. Mills showed up at an early hour this morning and ordered both of them away from the house. A quarrel ensued and words brought on a fight.

It is alleged that somebody fired two shots from a pistol at Mills. In the melee Mills was struck or cut over the eye and badly used generally. One eye was closed and his shirt was soaking with blood when he "phoned" for policemen from the union depot.

Patrolmen Alexander and Terrell investigated the case and arrested all participants in the fight.

Ullman Held Under Bond. This morning the three men were presented for a breach of peace in police court and the evidence was heard. The evidence was:

Mills ordered Ullman and his companion from the house. He had an open knife when he appeared in the house and advanced threateningly. Ullman started for him and received a slight cut on the head. He wrestled with Mills and succeeded in getting the knife away. Ullman then began to use the knife and cut Mills on the right side several times and in the head. Mills ran as did Ullman's companion. Ullman secured a pistol and followed Mills into the open air. Mills continued running after leaving the house and Ullman fired two shots. Judge Puryear held Ullman for malicious shooting with intent to kill and he gave bond in the sum of $300. The other witnesses in the case were all recognized to appear on the first day of September to testify before the grand jury.

To Raise $500,000. At a meeting of the directors of the Baptist Educational society of Kentucky, in Louisville last night, it was determined to make an effort to raise $500,000 for the purpose of developing the schools and colleges of that denomination in the state.

"Honestly isn't the best policy," he went on; "it's the only one. The vain fool that gets it into his head—or shall I say her head? No? Well, no offense, I assure you—his head, then, that he's smarter than a world full of experience, ought to be put in jail—for his own protection; he's too big a jay to be left out of doors. For 5,000 years, more or less, the world has been putting people like him behind bars, where they can't make asses of themselves. Yet each year, and every day and every hour, a new dunny is born who fancies he's cleverer than all his predecessors put together. Talk about suckers! Why, they're giants of intellect compared to the mentally lopsided that 5,000 years of experience can't teach. When the criminal-clown's turn comes, he hops, skips and jumps into the ring with the old, old gag. He thinks it's new, because he himself is so fresh and green. 'Here I am again,' he yells, 'the fellow that'll do you up. Others have tried it. They're dead, in jail or under jail-yards. But me—just watch me!' We do, and after a little we put him with his mates and a keeper in a barred kindergarten where fools that can't learn, little moral cripples of both sexes, my dear, belong. Hah!" He puffed out the smoke, throwing his head back, in a cloud toward the ceiling.

I sprang from my seat and faced him. I was tingling all through. I didn't care a rap what became of me for just that minute. I forgot about Tom. I prayed that the cop wouldn't come for a minute yet—but only that I might answer him.

"You're mighty smart, ain't you? You can sit back here and sneer at me, can't you? And feel so big and smart and triumphant! What've you done but catch a girl at her first bungling job! It makes you feel awfully cocky, don't it? 'What a big man am I!' Hah!" I blew the smoke up toward the ceiling from my mouth, with just that satisfied gall that he had had; or rather, I pretended to lie let down the front legs of his chair and began to stare at me.

"And you don't know it all, Mr. Manager, not you. Your clown-criminal don't jump into the ring because he's so full of fun he can't stay out. He goes in for the same reason the real clown does—because he gets hungry and thirsty and sleepy and tired like other men, and he's got to fill his stomach and cover his back and get a place to sleep. And it's because your kind gets too much, that my kind gets a little it has to place it out with this sort of thing. No, you don't know it quite all.

"There's a girl named Nancy Olden that could tell you a lot, smart as you are. She could show you the inside of the Cruelty, where she was put so young she never knew that children had mothers and fathers, till a red-haired girl named Mag Monahan told her; and then she was mighty glad she hadn't any. She thought that all little girls were bloodless and dirty, and all little boys were filthy and had black purple marks where their fathers had tried to gouge out their eyes. She thought all women were like the matron who came with a visitor up to the bare room, where we played without toys—the new, dirty, newly-bruised ones of us—and said: 'Here, chicks, is a lady who's come to see you. Tell her how happy you are here.' Then Mag's freckled little face, her finger in her mouth, looked up like this. She was always afraid it might be her mother come for her. And the crippled boy jerked himself this way—I used to mimic him, and he'd laugh with the rest of them—over the bare floor. He always hoped for a penny. Sometimes he even got it.

"And the boy with the gouged eye—he would hold his pants up like this. He had just come in, and there was nothing to sit him. And he'd put his other hand over his bad eye and blink up at her like this. And the littlest boy—oh! hah! hah! you ought to have seen that littlest boy. He was in skirts, an old dress they'd given me to wear the first day I came; there were no pants small enough for him. He'd back up into the corner and hide his face—like this—and peep over his shoulder; he had a squint that way, that made his face so funny. See, it makes you laugh yourself. But his body—my God!—it was blue with weal! And me—I'd put the baby down that'd been left on the doorsteps of the Cruelty, and I'd wait up to the lady, the nice, patronizing, rich lady, with her handkerchief to her nose and her lorgnette to her eyes—see, like this. I knew just what graft would work her. I knew what she wanted there. I'd learned. So I'd make her a curtsy like this, and in the plonkest sing-song I'd—"

There was a heavy step out in the hall—it was the policeman! I'd forgot while I was talking. I was back—back in the empty garret, at the top of the Cruelty. I could smell the smell of the poor, the dirty, weak sick poor. I could taste the porridge in the thick little bowls, like those in the bear story Molly told her kld. I could hear the stifled sobs that wise, poor children give—quiet ones, so they'll not be beaten again. I could feel the night, when strange, deserted, tortured babies lie for the first time, each in his small white cot, the new ones waking the old with their cries—a nightmare of what had happened before they got to the Cruelty. I could see the world harred over, as I saw it first through the Cruelty's barred windows, and as I must see it again, now that—"You see, you don't know it quite all—yet, Mr. Manager!" I spat it out at him, and then walked to the cop my hands ready for the bracelets.

"But there's one thing I do know!" He's a big fellow but quick on his feet, and in a minute he was up and between me and the cop. "And there isn't a theatrical man in all America that knows it quicker than Fred Obermuller, that can detect it sooner and develop it better. And you've got it, girl, you've got it! Officer, take this for your trouble. I couldn't hold the fellow, after all. Never mind which way he went; I'll call up the office and explain."

He shut the door after the cop, and came back to me. I had fallen into a chair. My knees were weak, and I was trembling all over.

"Have you seen the playlet Charly at the Vaudeville?" he roared at me. I shook my head.

"Well, it's a scene in a foundling asylum. Here's a pass. Go up now and see it. If you hurry you'll get there just in time for that act. Then if you come to me at the office in the morning at ten, I'll give you a chance as one of the Charly girls. Do you want it?"

God, Mag! Do I want it!

CHAPTER V.
D O YOU remember Lady Patroness' day at the Cruelty, Mag? Remember how the place smelt of cleaning ammonia on the bare floors? Remember the black dresses we all wore, and the white aprons with the little blubs, and the oily sweetness of the matron, and how our faces shone and tingled from the soap and the rubbing? Remember it all?

Well, who'd 'a' thought then that Nance Olden ever would make use of it—on the level, too!

Drop the Cruelty, and tell you about the stage? Why, it's bare boards back there, bare as the Cruelty, but oh, there's something that you don't see, but you feel it—something magic that makes you want to pinch yourself to be sure you're awake. I go round there just doped with it; my face, if you could see it, must look like Molly's kld's when she's telling him fairy stories.

I love it, Mag! I love it!

And what do I do? That's what I was trying to tell you about the Cruelty for. It's in a little act that was made for Lady Gray, that there are four Charly girls on the stage, and I'm one of 'em.

Lady Gray? Why, Mag, how can you ever hope to get on if you don't know who's who? How can you expect me to associate with you if you're so ignorant? Yes—a real Lady, as real as the wife of a Lord can be. Lord Harold Gray's a sure enough Lord, and she's his wife, but—but a chippy, just the same; that's what she is. In spite of the Gray emeralds and that great Gray rose diamond she wears on the tiniest chain around her scraggy neck. Do you know, Mag Monahan, that this Lady Harold Gray was just a chorus girl—and a sweet chorus it must have been if she sang there!—when she nabbed Lord Harold?

You'd better keep your eye on Nancy Olden, or first thing you know she'll marry the czar of Russia—or Tom Dorgan, poor fellow, when he gets out! . . . Well, just the same, Mag, if that white-faced, scraggy little creature can be a lady, a girl with ten times her brains, and at least half a dozen times her good looks—oh, we're not shy on the stage, Mag, about throwing bouquets at ourselves! Can she act? Don't be silly, Mag! Can't you see that Obermuller's just hiring her title and playing it in his letters on the bills for all it's worth? She acts the Lady Patroness, come to look at us Charly girls. She comes on, though, looking like a fairy princess. Her dress is just blazing, with diamonds. There's the lady's coronet in her hair. Her thin little arms are banded with gold and diamonds, and on her neck—O, Mag, Mag, that rose diamond is the color of rose leaves in a fountain's jet through which the sun is shining. It's long—long as my thumb—I swear it is, Mag—nearly, and it blazes, oh, it blazes—

Well, it blazes dollars into Obermuller's box all right, for the Gray jewels are advertised in the bill with this one at the head of the list, the star of them all.

You see it's this way: Lord Harold Gray's bankrupt. He's poor as—as Nance Olden. Isn't that funny? But he's got the family jewels all right, to have as long as he lives. Nary a one can he sell, though, for after his death they go to the next Lord Gray. So he makes 'em make a living for him, and as they can't go on and exhibit themselves, Lady Gray sports 'em—and draws down $200 a week.

Yep—two hundred.

But do you know it isn't the two hundred dollars a week that makes me envy her till I'm sick; it's that rose diamond. If you could only see it, Mag, you'd sympathize with me, and understand why my fingers just itched for it the first night I saw her come on.

"Don't my soul, Mag, the sight of it blazing on her neck dazzled me so that it shut out all the staring audience that first night, and I even forgot to have stage fright."

"What's doped you, Olden?" Obermuller asked when the curtain went down, and we all hurried to the wings.

I was in the black dress with the white-bibbed apron, and I looked up at him still dazed by the shine of that diamond and my longing for it. You'd almost kill with your own hands for a diamond like that, Mag!

"Doped? Why—what didn't I do?" I asked him.

"That's just it," he said, looking at me curiously; but I could feel his disappointment in me. "You didn't do anything—not a blasted thing more than you were told to do. The world's full of supers that can do that."

For just a minute I forgot the diamond.

"Then—it's a mistake? You were wrong and—and I can't be an actress!" He threw back his head before he answered, puffing a mouthful of smoke up at the ceiling, as he did the night he caught me. The gesture itself seemed to remind him of what had made him think in the first place he could make an actress of me. For he laughed down at me, and I saw he remembered.

"Well," he said, "we'll wait and see. . . . I was mistaken, though, sure enough, about one thing that night."

I looked up at him.

"You're a darn sight prettier than I thought you were. The gold brick you sold me isn't all—"

He put out his hand to touch my chin. I sidestepped, and he turned laughing to the stage.

But he called after me.

"Is a beauty success going to content you, Olden?"

"Well, we'll wait and see," I drawled back at him in his own throaty bass.

Oh, I was drunk, Mag, drunk with thinking about that diamond! I didn't care even to please Obermuller. I just wanted the feel of that diamond in my hand. I wanted it lying on my own neck—the lovely, cool, shining, rosy thing. It's like the sunrise, Mag, that beauty stone. It's just a tiny pool of water blushing. It's—

How to get it! How to get away with it! On what we'd get for that diamond, Tom and I—when his time is up—could live for all our lives and whoop it up besides. We could live in Paris, where great grafters live and grafting pays—where, if you've got wit and $50,000, and happen to be a "darn sight prettier," you can just spin the world around your little finger!

But, do you know, even then I couldn't bear to think of selling the pretty thing? It hurt me to think of anybody having it but just Nance Olden.

But I hadn't got it yet.

Gray has a dressing-room to herself. And on her table—which is a big box, open end down—just where the three-sided big mirror can multiply the jewels and make you want 'em three times as bad, her big russet-leather, silver-mounted box lies open, while she's dressing and undressing. Other times it's locked tight, and his lordship himself has it tight in his own right hand, or his lordship's man, Topham, has it just as tight.

How to get that diamond! There was a hard nut for Nance Olden's sharp teeth to crack. I only wanted that—never say I'm greedy, Mag—Gray could keep all the rest of the things—the pigeon in rubies and pearls, the tiara all in diamonds, the chain of pearls, and the blazing rings, and the waist-trimming all of emeralds and diamond stars. But that diamond, that huge rose diamond, I couldn't, I just couldn't let her have it.

And yet I didn't know the first step to take toward getting it, till Beryl Blackburn helped me out. She's one of the Charlies, like me—a tall bleached blonde with a pretty, pale face and gold-gray eyes. And, if you'd believe her, there's not a man in the audience, afternoon or evening, that isn't dead-gone on her.

"Guess who's my latest," she said to me this afternoon, while we four Charlies stood in the wings waiting. "Topham—old Topham!"

It all got clear to me then in a minute.

"Topham—nothing!" I sneered. "Beryl Bighead, Topham thinks of only one thing—mildady's jewel-box. Don't you fool yourself!"

"Oh, does he, miss! Well just to prove it, he let me try on the rose diamond last night. There!"

"It's easy to say so, but I don't see the proof. He'd lose his job so quick it'd make his head spin if he did it."

"Not if he did, but if they knew he did. You'll not tell?"

"Not me. Why would I? I don't believe it, and I wouldn't expect any body else to. I don't believe you could get Topham to budge from his chair in Gray's dressing-room if you'd—"

"What'll you bet?"

"I'll bet you the biggest box of chocolate creams at Huyler's."

"Done! I'll send for him to-night, just before Gray and her lord come, and you'll see—"

"How'll I see? Where'll I be?"

"Well, you be waiting in the little hall right off Gray's dressing-room at 7:30 to-night and—you might as well bring the creams with you."

Catch on, Mag? At 7:30 in the evening I was waiting; but not in the little hall off Gray's dressing-room. I hadn't gone home at all after the afternoon performance—you know we play at three, and again at 8:30. I had just hidden me away till the rest were gone, and as soon as the coast was clear I got into Gray's dressing-room, pushed aside the chintz curtains of the big box that makes her dressing-table—and waited.

BUSINESS DULL

WESTERN KENTUCKY VITIQUES AND UNPROFITABLE.

Deputy United States Marshal Brown Has Time for Agricultural Pursuits.

Government jobs are not always the "clinch" they are thought to be—that is as far as the financial part is concerned—and especially is this true in the offices where fees constitute the salary.

Deputy United States Marshal Wade Brown receives his salary in fees, but finds that the office has not been a profitable one. He has had but little work to do since the last term of federal court and has been farming for the past several weeks. This morning he went up the Louisville division of the Illinois Central on the first official business since May 23.

"Yes, I have not been busy since May and have been putting in my time farming," he declared. "There are no more boot-legging cases reported, and the only business I have done in weeks was the service of papers in admiralty matters and this took but a few minutes."

NEGRO ASSAULT

WOMAN FIRES TWO SHOTS AT HER ASSAILANT.

Negro Arrested at Richmond Answers the Description Given by Victim.

Ford, Ky., July 12.—Mrs. Anderson Crawford was brutally assaulted and beaten by an unknown negro at her home near this place. However she succeeded in driving her assailant off and fired two shots at him as he ran up the hill from the Crawford home. The entire country is out searching for the brute. Mrs. Crawford is in a very critical condition.

Suspect Arrested at Richmond.

Richmond, Ky., July 12.—Frank Cosby, a negro, was arrested here in a snafu. From the description furnished by the officials of Ford, Ky., he is believed to be the man who brutally assaulted Mrs. Anderson Crawford at her home, near here, this afternoon.

A HORSE SHOW.

Splendid Array of Imported and Domestic Equine Beauties.

Horseflesh has always been more a matter of fad with the owner of the John Robinson Shows than one of business, for if a horse caught his fancy his price was a secondary consideration, and the result is the show boasts of the finest lot of horses in the eastern world. From a magnificent herd of Arabian whirlwind steeds of the desert, like-limbed racing thoroughbreds from Kentucky's blue grass region, deep-chested English jumping horses, and the horse markets of the world furnished the hundreds of broad-backed draft horses, all thorough-bred Norman and Percheron stock, down to the diminutive Shetland and Welsh ponies, it is a horseman's paradise, this show of equine supremacy. The advance heralds tell of the coming of the show to our city on Saturday, July 14, and the lovers of all that is to be admired in horseflesh will enjoy the treat.

EXTRAORDINARY RUN.

Bernard Coal Company Has Ten Hour Output of 2,210 Tons.

The St. Bernard Coal company, operator of the St. Charles, Ky., coal mines, is bragging over a feat accomplished Monday, which sets other mines back a few notches for the present. The mines made a ten hour run Monday and had an output of 2,210 tons of coal, a remarkable run. These competitions have been interesting from year to year, and it is said that this is the biggest day's work done by any mine in Central Kentucky with the same force and working the same time, in years.

NO CHILD THERE.

Servants Give Neighbor Horrors Until Well Is Dragged.

Coroner Frank Baker yesterday afternoon dragged an old cistern on the Palmer property on Clark street beyond Tenth street, searching for the body of a child supposed to have fallen into the cistern. Mrs. James Clark resides at 1013 Clark, and the well is on a vacant lot adjoining her property. She heard screams the night before and imagined a child had fallen into the cistern. The coroner found nothing but a lot of old clothes and debris which had been thrown into the well.

July Clearance Sale

Some Special Bargains

WE have at last gotten into our new building, 114 and 116 South Third Street, and when you come in to see us you will agree that it is one of the largest, lightest and airiest store rooms in Paducah. Every modern improvement has been put on the building formerly occupied by the Paducah Furniture Manufacturing Company, it has been enlarged and we feel justly proud of the result. We are starting in with a big July Clearance Sale and the goods have been so priced as to make sure of selling quickly that which remains after a season of successful selling. We must make room for the immense stock of high class furniture which is coming in daily. Remember, also, that you do not need the ready cash. If you want to buy an entire outfit or a single article, pick it out and just tell the salesman to "CHARGE IT." PAY WHEN YOU WILL AND WHAT YOU WILL.

REFRIGERATORS

Our stock of Refrigerators is yet large but in order to avoid carrying them over to another season we are making some rock bottom prices for this July sale.

We are sole agents in Paducah for the celebrated Herrick Refrigerator, the dry air, economical kind. It is made of solid oak, the doors and walls are four inches thick, and filled with mineral wool, the best and highest priced insulator known. It is lined with odorless spruce, either plain or white enameled, doing away with the unhealthy zinc, which is sure to corrode and taint any article of food placed in it. The ice chamber is to one side, entirely separate and apart from the provision chamber, making good our claim that it is the cheapest refrigerator on the market to keep cold. The Herrick is sold strictly on its merits—on a GUARANTEE. After thirty days' trial, if it is not entirely satisfactory in every respect, send it right back and get your money. Terms $2.00 cash and 50c a week.

REPUTABLE

PEOPLE ONLY ACCORDED PRIVILEGES OF WALLACE PARK.

Deputy Sheriff Moore Will Warn Unwelcome Patrons Out of the Grounds.

No women of an immoral or questionable character will be permitted to patronize Wallace park. This is the edict published this morning by the Paducah Traction company, and it is to be adhered to. Deputy Sheriff T. J. Moore, employed especially to keep order in Wallace park, said: "I have been instructed that all women I recognize as not the proper persons to associate with decent people are to be refused admittance. Whenever they come into the park I shall force them to leave."

This step is made necessary by the heavy patronage accorded the amusement place.

Contest in Tennessee.

The indications are that Brownlow delegates will be seated in the contested counties at the Republican convention to nominate a candidate for governor of Tennessee at the convention at Nashville.

MONEY TO LOAN.

The Mechanics' Building and Loan Association will loan you money to build you a house or release the mortgage on your house, at six per cent.

Must Leave Schedules Alone.

It is said that intimations are being sent out by some of the strong railway lines that in future there must be no trifling on the part of their agents with fixed schedules of rates.

MALT TONIC

ACQUIRES BAD REPUTATION AND GETS DEALERS IN TROUBLE.

Grocer and Colored Proprietor of Soft Drink Emporium Haled Before Tribunal.

John Backer, operating a grocery at Ninth and Husbands streets and Alpha Willey, colored, operating a soft drink stand on Caldwell street between Tenth and Eleventh streets, were presented in police court this morning for selling intoxicants without a license. It is alleged that they handled a brand of drink known as Malt Tonic or Malt Ale, which the authorities believe is intoxicating. Several saloonkeepers have been summoned to testify.

Other cases: Nelson Ellis, colored, old charge of malicious shooting fled away and defendant fined $10 and costs on breach of the peace on motion of the prosecuting attorney; Will Hamilton, drunk and disorderly, left open; Al Winfrey, alleged robbery, warrant fled away.

PADUCAH TOBACCO MARKET.

(By L. A. Graham & Co.) Offerings on our market this week 175 hogheads. The market was fully up and strong on all kinds. We don't believe that this market will sell over 1,000 hogheads more, including the association holdings. Our opinion is the market will continue as good or better in prices until the close, which will be about the 15th of August.

Prices as follows:
Lugs $ 4.50 to $ 6.00
Common leaf ... $ 6.00 to $ 7.00
Medium leaf ... $ 7.00 to $ 8.00
Good leaf $ 8.00 to $ 9.50
Fine leaf $10.00 to 12.00

No Liquor Goes.

Monroe, La., July 12.—In choosing motormen for what is said to be the first municipally owned street railway in the United States, the street railway of Monroe, Mayor A. Forsythe last night said that the first test for fitness for this position will be total abstinence from all intoxicating liquors.

Five Killed in Collision.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 12.—A train of two trolley cars, westbound, from Lockport on the International railway last night ran into an open switch at a siding east of Martinsville, and crashed into a trolley freight train on the siding. Five passengers were killed outright and a score injured, some of whom may die.

Engine Turns Over.

Louis, Ky., July 12.—An engine drawing a Chesapeake & Ohio work train turned over today, killing William Stevens and dangerously injuring William Fitzgerald.

No Knowledge Here.

A dispatch to the Louisville Post says the contract for buying tobacco for the Italian government was awarded again in Paducah Monday to Fields, Hamlett & company, of Fulton, Ky. Inquiry here does not support the dispatch, it being too early in the season to award the contract.

No Trust Indicted.

Washington, July 12.—The federal grand jury returned an indictment today against the local ice trust under the Sherman anti-trust act, charging conspiracy in restraint of trade and competition.

WATER NOTICE.

Patrons of the Water company are reminded that their rents expired June 30, and those who desire to renew them should do so before it is forgotten. All premises not paid for on or before July 10, will be discontinued, and the cost of shutting off and turning on water will be $1.00.
